

The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company

Voluntary Report of 2023 Political and Lobbying Contributions

The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company has an abiding commitment to good governance. In furtherance of that commitment, Goodyear is voluntarily disclosing its direct and indirect contributions and expenditures with corporate funds or assets to (a) participate or intervene in any political campaign on behalf of (or in opposition to) any candidate for public office, or (b) influence the general public with respect to an election or referendum, in each case made during the year ended December 31, 2023. Goodyear is also voluntarily disclosing certain lobbying expenditures in excess of $50,000.

Goodyear's Policy on Political Contributions is included in our Business Conduct Manual, which can be found on Goodyear's corporate website at:

Business Conduct Manual \(goodyear.com\)

(1) Contributions to individual candidates for public office or in support of or opposition to any political campaign, election, initiative, referendum or other ballot measure:

None

(2) Contributions to Section 527 organizations:

None

(3) Contributions or payments in excess of $50,000 made to Section 501(c)(4) organizations, Section 501(c)(6) trade associations and other similar organizations that were used for political or lobbying expenditures, as identified by the organization or association, including the allocable portion of membership dues paid to such organizations or associations:

Alliance for American Manufacturing	$212,277
U.S. Tire Manufacturers Association	$196,896
Consumer Technology Association	$123,500